

Press Release for British Tourism Week 2009

Bailey Balloons take off from some of the best launch sites in Bristol, Bath & South Wales. They have many flights available during British Tourism Week flying over some amazing sights such as the Georgian city of Bath, the historic docks of Bristol as well as stunning countryside and pretty villages. They have champagne balloon flights that are suitable for 8 to 90 years! They offer flights for individuals, couples, and families, small and large groups. Bailey Balloons have a range of different balloon sizes so they can cater for exclusive groups/parties of any size. Flights can be sold as vouchers or at short notice. The whole experience takes 3-4 hours, with the flight lasting approx one hour with chilled champagne served in glasses where you land! The flights take place in the cool of dawn or just before sunset.

Bailey Balloons is run by Clive Bailey and Jo Bailey, who are both well known in the balloon world. Clive proposed to Jo at 8000 feet over the Bath area and they left their wedding reception by balloon! Clive works with the well-known explorer David Hempleman-Adams on his flight projects and Jo flew the cloud hopper balloon (a harness attaches Jo to the balloon with no basket!) in the Land Rover advert. Prices start at £99 per person.
